

Educator Guide: Should we raise the federal minimum wage?

Lesson plan and classroom viewing guide

This guide is designed to support your students with these learning objectives:

- 1) Students will analyze information about whether or not to raise the federal minimum wage.
- 2) Students will evaluate and present arguments to support their position on KQED Learn
- 3) Students will create a multimedia Make & Share about how a raise in the minimum wage might affect their lives or community.

Add your voice by posting a selfie video or audio clip or other media answer to the questions: What's the minimum wage in your city or state? Do you or someone you know work for minimum wage? Do you think the minimum wage should be increased? Would it have a positive effect or do you think businesses would close in your community?

Then, post in the Make & Share tab.

CCSS.ELA-Literacy.CCR.A.R.1	Read closely to determine what the text says explicitly and to make logical inferences from it; cite specific textual evidence when writing or speaking to support conclusions drawn from the text
CCSS.ELA-Literacy.CCR.A.R.7	Integrate and evaluate content presented in diverse media and formats, including visually and quantitatively, as well as in words
CCSS.ELA-Literacy.W.1	Write arguments to support claims with clear reasons and relevant evidence
CCSS.ELA-Literacy.W.6	Use technology, including the Internet, to produce and publish writing and to interact and collaborate with others
NGSS.SEP.7	Engaging in argument from evidence
NGSS.SEP.8	Obtaining, evaluating and communicating information
ISTE Digital Citizen	Students recognize the rights, responsibilities and opportunities of living, learning and working in an interconnected digital world, and they act and model in ways that are safe, legal and ethical.

*KQED's Media Tool Policy: In KQED Education's media literacy work, we take an approach to platforms and tools that focuses on developing media-making competencies that are transferable to an individual's specific technology context. When we recommend software for specific mediamaking activities, our factors for consideration include ease of use, whether the tool is open-source, whether it works across platforms and whether it offers the necessary functionality for the task free of cost. If there are no free tools appropriate for the task, we prioritize the lowest-cost solution able to produce high-quality media.
